THE YEARBOOK STAFF PRESENTS
THE 1961

NEGAUNEE HIGH SCHOOL
NEGAUNEE, MICHIGAN

Trees have served mankind throughout the ages in many ways. They have continued to serve in the ever fast changing world we know today. They stand out as reminders that the laws of nature and God still prevail, and display the virtues of mankind we constantly strive to attain. As the trees, may we look forward with confirmed determination to better serve our fellow man.

We hope the 1961 Yearbook will help bind the friendships, and retain in our memories the years of our lives as students in Negaunee High. "Trees" was selected as the theme and inspiration of your Pioneer. As we branch out in life, may the roots we have established guide us, as we encounter the certain ties and problems toward a better world.

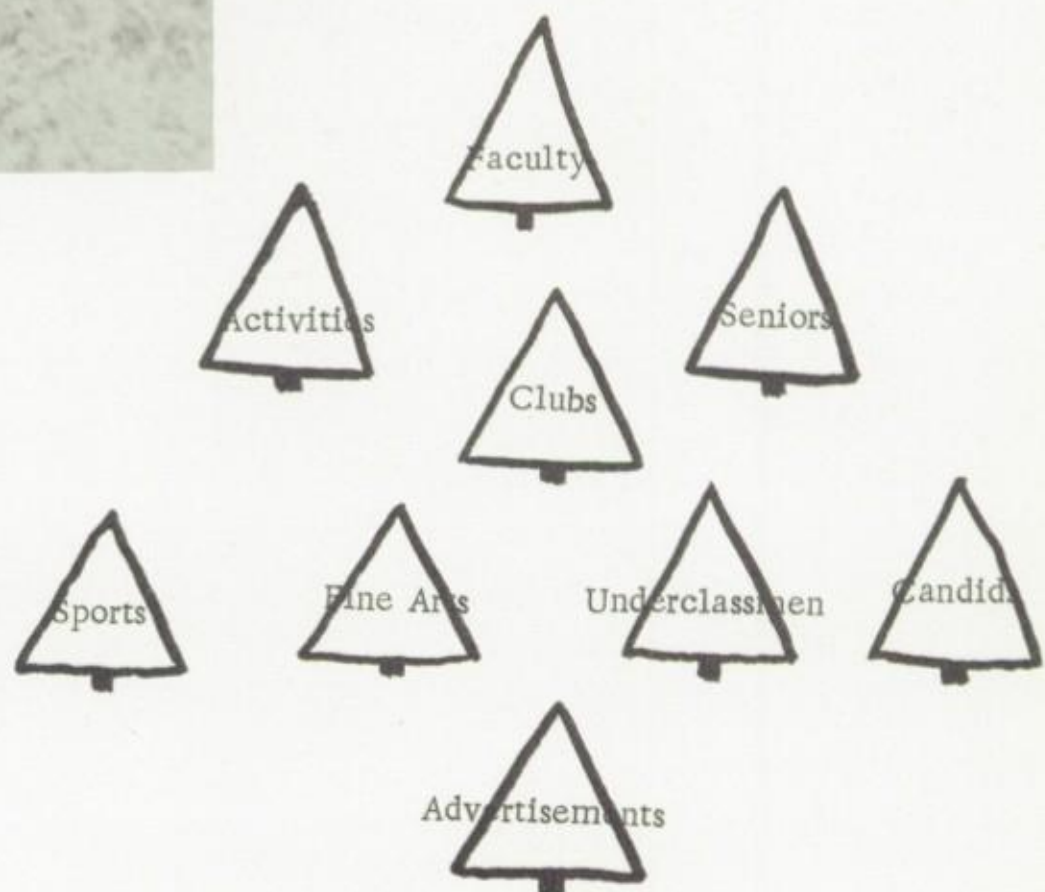

Go, then, and plant a tree, lovely in sun and shadow,
Gracious in every kind—maple and oak and pine.
Peace of the forest glade, wealth of the fruitful meadow,
Blessings of dew and shade, hereafter shall be thine.

Candy Prusi, Business Manager, and Pauline Lakanen, Editor-in-Chief, seem quite happy that the Pioneer is completed. It has been many hours of hard work but they feel it is worth the experience.

Jeanette Carlson, Assistant Editor, and Ann Hendrickson, Assistant Business Manager, are looking forward to a busy year with the 1962 Pioneer.

Tomorrow is ours if we prepare through education, reading and listening; if we build our personalities
through contact, imitation and knowledge of ourselves;
if we give of our talents and resources; if we work and keep faith with ourselves, our country and our God.

Mr. George T. Williamson, Business Manager

Much of the credit to a school system must be given to our board of education. It is through their efforts we are supplied with many facilities that we enjoy in Negaunee. The student body wishes to extend sincere appreciation to the board members who are serving our community.

Their big project this year was the building of the extension to Lakeview. They also repaired and improved our own high school to eliminate fire hazards, which was in addition to their normal routine of keeping the buildings in repair and the staff in shape.

Valedictorian

GAIL VANNI

Bernice Kauppila was chosen Salutatorian of the class of 1961.

Besides maintaining an outstanding scholastic average during her four years of high school, she participated in such extra-curricular activities as Tri-Hi-Y, Future Teachers, and Mixed Chorus. She also taught Sunday School at the Apostolic Lutheran Church.

Bernice plans on going to Northern Michigan College next year to study elementary teaching and business.

Gail Vanni has the honor of being the Valedictorian of the Class of 1961.

In addition to her interest in foreign languages, she participated in the junior class play, all-school play, Tri-Hi-Y, and Concert Orchestra. She also has been a class officer for the past three years, an active member of the Luther League, and a Sunday School teacher at the Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Gail's future plans include attending Northern Michigan College to enter into an elementary teaching career.

JILL HILL

Homecoming Queen

1960-1961

Carol Pietala

Candace Prusi

Queen Jill Hill was chosen to reign for the 1960 football season. She was crowned by Gary Chapman, the president of the senior class, in an assembly for the entire high school. Jill was chosen by the boys in grades 9-12. The princesses were Carol Pietala and Candace Prusi, with the members of the court being Ruth Sylvester, Marcia Oja, and Barbara Bussone.

The Class of 1961 presented The Remarkable Incident At Carson Corners on April 7 and 8, 1960, under the direction of Miss Berlyene Miller.

Throughout the play the jury was trying to decide how Bill McGinnis (Stanley Anderson) had died. They didn't know if he was pushed off of the balcony of the fire escape or if he fell. Mr. Kovalesky (John Wiig) was suspected of the murder because Bill McGinnis found a sum of money in his possession. It was then decided that he wouldn't be convicted and they weren't really sure how it happened.

It was one play held here, where no scenery was used.

Remarkable Incident

Richard Hill is being comforted by Carol Pietala and Phil Pearson while the witnesses watch.

Junior Prom

The Junior class of 1960 presented their Jr. Prom on May 6th. The theme was "Southern Splendor."

The main attraction was a fountain, the picture on the left, with a moon shining through the branches of a weeping willow. On the other side of the gym was a wishing well where refreshments were served.

The Grand March was led by the President of the class, Ken Lehto, and his date Rae Warner. They are seen above with Alvar Kurin and Gail Vanni.

Standing against a background of an enormous mansion, Paul Goodman and his orchestra supplied the music.

Many hours were spent by co-chairman Marcia Oja and Carol Pietila, helping to make the prom a success.

Gloria Etelamaki and Stephen Adamini playing their part in SUNRISE AT CAMPOBELLO

Sunrise At Campobello

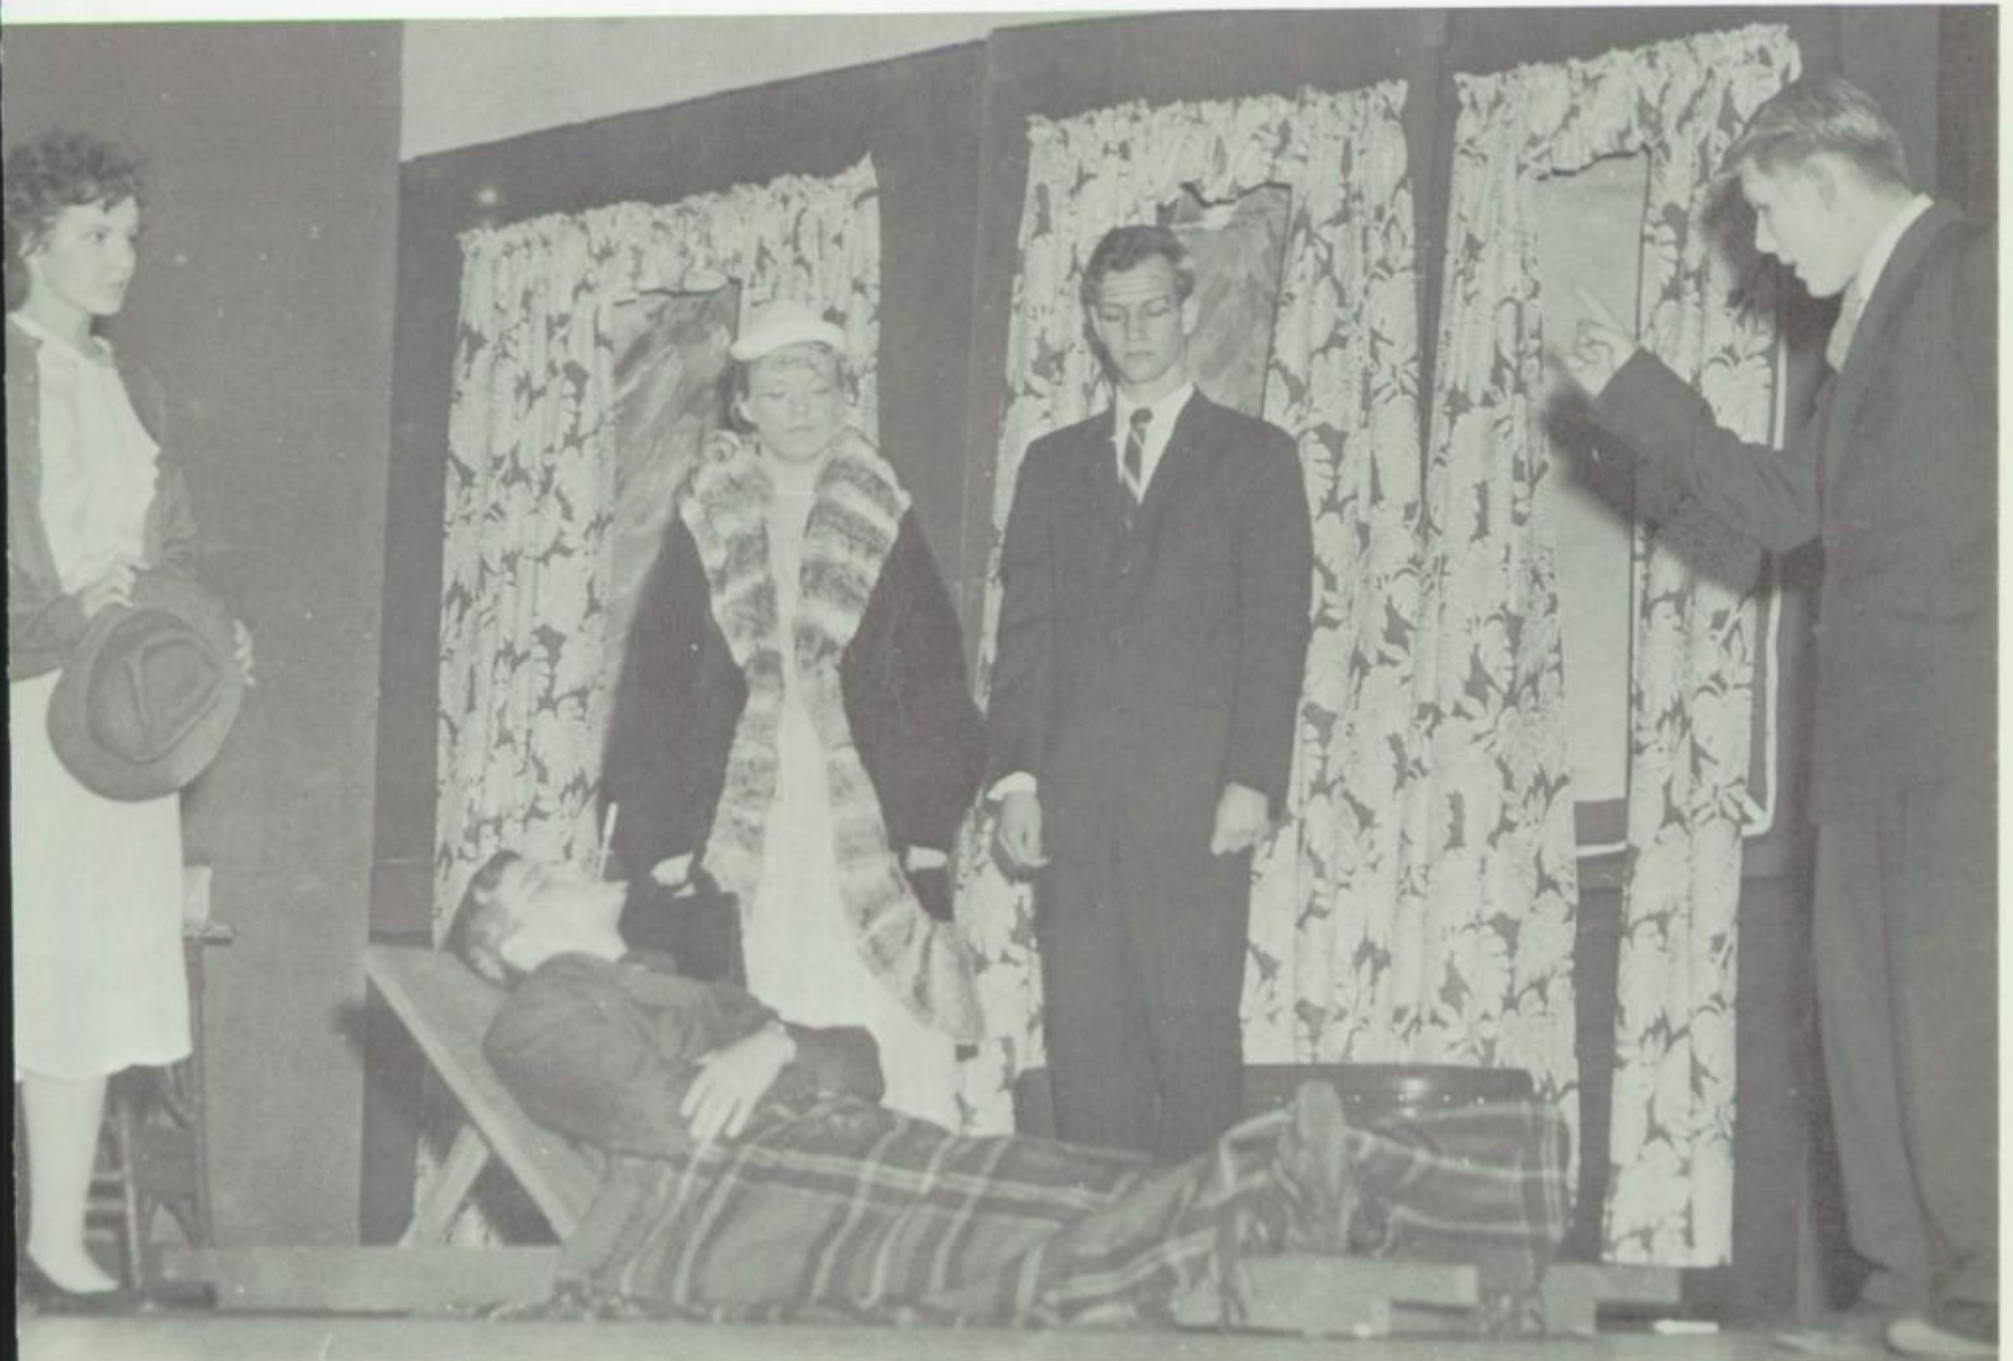

Miss Berlyene Miller, the director, selected an excellent cast for this production.

The show ran for three nights. The first was a benefit performance for The Bay Cliff Health Camp. This performance was reviewed by Mr. Laurence Pacquin, a noted critic. He said that the cast did an excellent job and commented about each actor and actress.

The play was about the beginning of Franklin Roosevelt's (Stephen Adamini) career in politics. His emotional problems captured the hearts of everyone in the audience.

Pioneer Staff

In spite of the usual hurrying and scurrying to meet the deadlines, the capable Pioneer Staff has turned out another excellent annual. This year, more so than others, the Staff was very busy. Besides editing the 1961 Pioneer, they were hostesses to the U P Journalism Conference. Pauline Lakanen, our Editor-In-Chief proved to be very capable in not only supervising the Staff but also in originating an advertising skit for the assembly. To help make money for this year's book, the Staff sold popcorn at the games.

The Pioneer Staff extends its thanks to the many people who have made the 1961 Pioneer a success and sincerely hope you will enjoy it.

These girls marched with the band for several parades and during half time at the high school football games. Nancy Maki is the drum majorette for the high school band.

Prepares for Festival

Art

Department

The Art Department gives our students an opportunity to express their creative talent. Under the direction of Miss Tullberg, students learn how to oil paint, to make posters, and water color painting. We often see the fine work of our art students displayed in the showcases and on the bulletin boards in the halls.

Underclassmen are developing individuality, gleaning information, and displaying talents of which they were not aware. This self-realization and competition prepare them for their future in education, business, and social contentment.

What's this? Studying?

The class of 1966 entered Negaunee High School in the fall of 1960 and began their secondary education. For many it was a big change, but all in all they have found it to be a wonderful experience. They elected officers, attended assemblies with the senior high students, sold magazines, planned a class party, and by doing this learned how to work together as young adults.

Let's hear it—for the Maize and Blue!

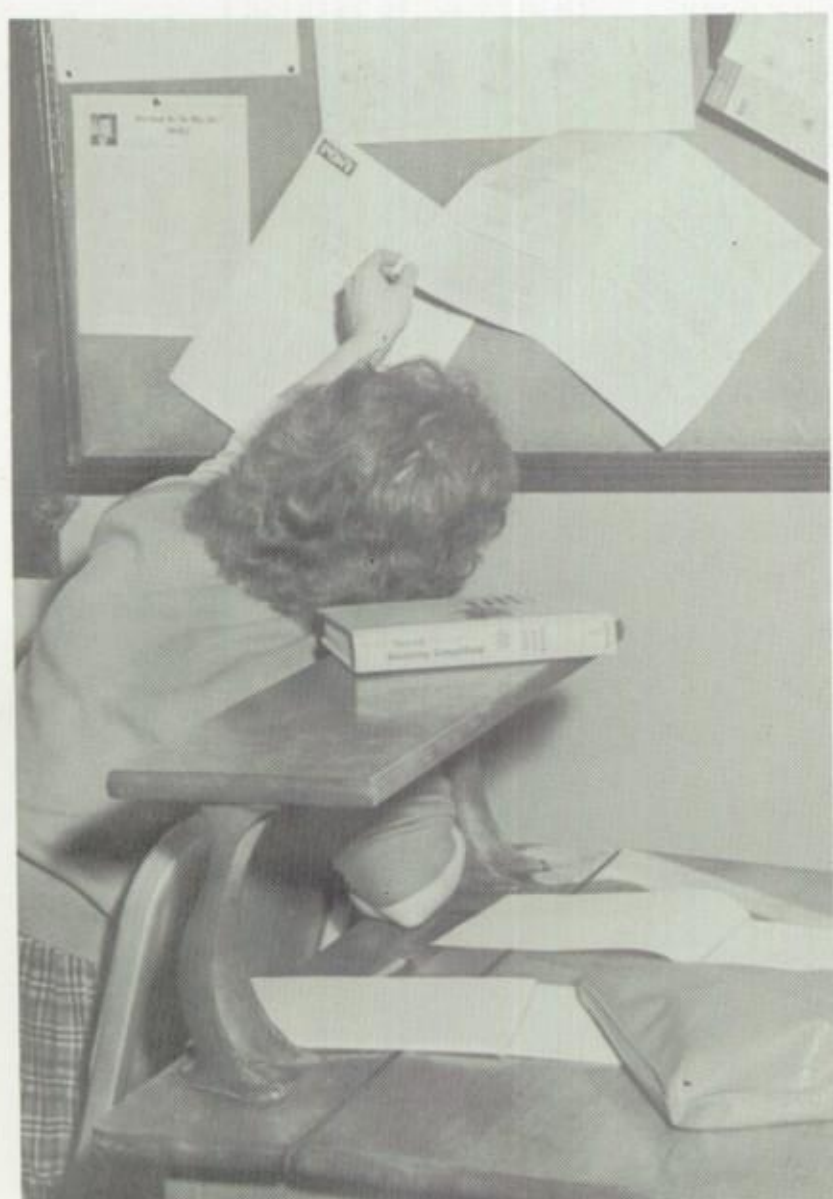

Stand back—just in case!

Individual photos, group and faculty pictures, as well as photographs of the various organizations in school are all important to a successful yearbook. However, candid shots of our students and faculty going about the routine business of school life are more revealing of the day to day events that we will remember and cherish in years to come. We hope that in these off-guard "shots" you might see yourselves and your classmates in some of the casual moments of our school life.
